

BEAGLE

AppleWorks is the best selling program in the history of the Apple II computer—and for good reason. It's powerful, fast and easy to use. Now, you can customize AppleWorks v3.0 for your own computer and your own special needs with AW 3.0 Companion.

AW 3.0 Companion™

AW 3.0 Companion is the official AppleWorks customization program from Beagle Bros, the developers of AppleWorks v3.0.

BEAGLE

AW 3.0 Companion can do all this:

- Eliminate several undocumented features AppleWorks owners have reported.
- Allow the use of extra memory as both AppleWorks desktop space and a ram drive at the same time!
- Eliminate the "Do you really want to do this?" questions! (Unless you really want them...)
- Change Return to select "Yes" instead of "No" at AppleWorks prompts.
- Change the order in which files are listed.
- Add MouseText to screens and menus.
- Adjust the cursor blink rate.
- Change the cursor and Return characters to anything else.
- Change the obnoxious AppleWorks beep to something more or less annoying.
- Place the OA-Q menu anywhere on the screen.
- Speed up the Spreadsheet by restricting it to 999 rows.
- Set the direction of the enter key in the Spreadsheet.
- Restore cursor position when re-loading Word Processor and Data Base files.
- And much, much more!

When you run the AW 3.0 Companion disk, you'll be greeted by the familiar AppleWorks-style menus. Just select the changes you want to make and you're done. AppleWorks will be customized to your liking!

AW 3.0 Companion works with AppleWorks v3.0 only, and requires an Apple IIe, IIC, IIC+ or IIGS with one 5.25 or 3.5 disk drive.
